What is Cancer Touch Therapy?

Lisa Mann Beauty Salon, Totnes, Devon is proud to introduce Cancer Touch Therapy treatments in partnership with Made for Life, for those not only currently living with or recovering from cancer, but also for anyone suffering stress or trauma in their lives. Cancer Touch Therapy was developed, taking advice from trained oncology massage teachers, advisors within the oncology team at the Royal Cornwall Hospitals Trust and Macmillan. Marc Innes, MISRM, MCMA and Founder of the School of Natural Therapies is the lead trainer and gained accreditation for this course from the Complementary Medical Association (CMA).

The Cancer Touch Therapy Spa treatments available at Lisa Mann Beauty Salon include the nurturing and calming 'Hand on Heart'™ treatment for the head, face, back and shoulders, 'Catch the breath'® back and head treatment and the 'Soothe and Nurture'™ organic facial.

The treatments all use award winning, ethically accredited Made for Life Organics products. Hand blended in Cornwall, the products are infused with natural botanicals and are delicately scented and do not contain any synthetic chemicals or parabens. The therapy provides a safe and beautiful way of providing guests with a remarkably comforting experience, allowing an opportunity to truly relax.

Amanda Winwood, MD of Made for Life Organics and Founder of the Made for Life Foundation said "At a time when a therapeutic and nurturing touch is most needed, 96% of spas still turn people away whilst they are going through cancer. We believe that all spas should be accessible. Through our work with the Made for Life Foundation (registered charity 1138846) we have for 15 years, consistently ensured that we provide this support; using appropriate protocols combined with our 100% organic skincare and wellbeing range of products. Our CMA accredited Cancer Touch Therapy training course has given the exceptional therapists at Lisa Mann Beauty Salon the skills to confidently open their doors to anyone going through cancer and provide much needed support."
